

RonPaulCoin on Base
A Peer-to-Peer Electronic Liberty Movement

May 10, 2024
version 1.2
ronpaulcoin.org

This project is intended to disseminate and put into practice the teachings of Dr. Ron Paul. By using a sound money with his likeness inscribed, the full scope of his philosophy is preserved. This preservation is important, as we have often seen the credibility of currencies degrade. Even in times of distributed ledger technology, we have seen Bitcoin move from a "peer-to-peer electronic cash system" to more of a digital gold.

This occurred due to the suppression of the block size limit by leaders in the space, and a subsequent rise in fees, eliminating the coin's use for everyday transactions. By having a figurehead on the face of the coin, we are reminded of the very intentions of Ron Paul to, in all things, foster liberty. We remember the words he spoke in regard to the currencies we use, often making clear the realities that lie beneath the surface. Regarding money, he has stated simply: "You can't have a healthy economy without sound money, which is why we're on the verge of very serious economic problems." [1] and "True prosperity can only come from a healthy economy and sound money. That can only be achieved in a free society." [2]

Money and currencies have long been adorned with the faces of influential persons and leaders. RonPaulCoin was the first cryptocurrency to do so, and for good reason; cryptocurrency is a modern method to achieve that which he has worked towards. By using this new technology with purpose, we move closer to his vision of liberty, peace, government transparency, and the end of the Federal Reserve.

As many are aware, Bitcoin served to create sound money through a fair distribution, limited supply, and permissionless use. To build from this, the following are ways in which RonPaulCoin on Base seeks to achieve his vision:

Awareness: marketing is intended to extend the awareness of Ron Paul and his philosophy. By integrating his likeness into the new world of cryptocurrency, we bring awareness to the fundamental purpose of the movement. This emphasizes the positive aspects of it, when smaller negative aspects of cryptocurrency can often be blown out of proportion by media.

Charity: We seek to provide funding for the existing programs in Ron Paul's name. Donations to the Ron Paul Institute and Mises Institute expand their educational outreach, strengthen the movement for peaceful foreign policy, and provide people with the tools they need to achieve liberty. Donations can be specific to particular projects such as the End The Fed documentary, scholarships, and various publications from the Mises Institute. As people share knowledge and expand their liberties through peaceful and just means, they in turn inspire others to follow suit, as they have not stepped on those around them.

Memes: Ron Paul's passion, excitement, and preparedness has been captured in meme format and promote in a fun and simple way the sentiment of his movement. Because of the strong integration of modern cryptocurrencies and meme culture, RonPaulCoin aims to promote the classic memes and provide new memes that further the mission of liberty, peace, and prosperity.

Monetary transparency: Accounting of the development, marketing, and charity funds will be publicly available at ronpaulcoin.org, as to correlate with the transparency that Ron Paul advocates. This also serves as an example for other projects to use.

References:

[1]

washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/discussion/2007/10/01/DI2007100101451.html

[2] azquotes.com/quote/1141339